

LIOR SOFER – Israel

Male Wakeboard Cable Rider of the Decade

2010 – 2019

Lior is an incredible athlete and a fantastic role model to any up-and-coming riders, he has competed in all of the IWWF World Championships since 2010, and winning 3 x Consecutive Open Men World Championships (2014/2016/2018)

Lior brings enthusiasm and fun to all of our events, and is an all-round gentleman, who actively takes time out to encourage and talk to younger athletes, he is a great ambassador for our sport, and we look forward to seeing what he brings to the next decade. A well-deserved accolade.

On winning the 2018 World Championships Lior said:

"My competition went amazing! From the first rounds to finals ... Landing all my tricks and I completed all runs, couldn't ask more than that! My mission was to give a good show to the crowd, judges and to all who watched the live stream and I'm beyond happy that everything worked out...!!!!

I won't change a thing because all helped me to go to the final and to ride as I rode ..."

How do you rate this victory vs other victories?

I would rate this winning as my most important win so far... The big difference is the age so, obviously, all the odds were against me. So, I'm happy I could give a good show and to still be able to be in shape to ride in the high levels we find nowadays.
